Hi Ricardo,

It was really nice talking with you. As mentioned on the phone, the next step would be you writing a cover letter for this position.

Please describe your interest in GLI, in the position itself and mention Java and C++ + projects you worked on with it - do not be general, give details please. Attached to the email, you can find the assessment. You can find on YouTube more information about how the game works (baccarat game).

Please see the website of GLI Europe: <https://gaminglabs.com/> and a brief description of the company:

GLI is an independent testing organization in the gambling industry. Originally from the USA, with headquarters in New Jersey. GLI has around 1000 employees around the world. The office in Haarlem has an estimated 150 people with 40 different nationalities working. GLI is a dynamic company with an informal work environment.

Click on this link to apply for this vacancy. Here, you can upload your CV and motivation letter that should be written in English.

For questions, you can reach me on +31 20 614 27 11.
